Studies on diffusing factors. 1. The kinetics of the action of hyaluronidase from various sources upon hyaluronic acid, with a note upon anomalies encountered in the estimation of N -acetyl glucosamine. By J. H. HUMPHREY. (With five figures) . . . . .	435
Studies on diffusing factors. 2. The action of hyaluronidase preparations from various sources upon some substrates other than hyaluronic acid. By J. H. HUMPHREY. (With two figures) . . . . .	442
The polarographic estimation of steroid hormones. 1. Polarography of neutral 17-ketosteroids in urinary extracts. By J. BARNETT, A. A. HENLY and C. J. O. R. MORRIS. (With two figures) . . . . .	445
The polarographic estimation of steroid hormones. 2. Polarography of related steroid hydrazones. By J. BARNETT and C. J. O. R. MORRIS. (With one figure) . . . . .	450
The effect of phytic acid on the absorption of calcium and phosphorus. 2. In infants. By E. HOFF-JØRGENSEN, O. ANDERSEN, H. BEGRUP and G. NIELSEN . . . . .	453
The quantitative separation of trivalent from pentavalent arsenic derivatives on the micro scale. By T. B. B. CRAWFORD and G. A. LEVY . . . . .	455
The interdependence of the vitamins. Vitamin B <sub>1</sub> and riboflavin. By M. C. A. CROSS, J. EMBLETON and K. H. COWARD . . . . .	458
The metabolism and functioning of vitamin-like compounds. 3. Products of the decomposition of glutamine during streptococcal glycolysis. By H. MCLWAIN . . . . .	460
The thyrotropic hormone, thyroxine and ascorbic acid in relationship to the liver glycogen of guinea-pigs. By M. G. CRABTREE and V. M. TRIKOJUS . . . . .	465
The basic amino-acid content of proteins. By H. T. MACPHERSON . . . . .	470
Studies on the metabolism of semen. 3. Fructose as a normal constituent of seminal plasma. Site of formation and function of fructose in semen. By T. MANN . . . . .	481
Palm-oil carotenoids. 5. Examination of 'Sese' palm oils. By R. F. HUNTER and R. M. KRAKENBERGER	492
Lipotropic factors and the fatty liver produced by feeding cholesterol. By J. H. RIDOUT, C. C. LUCAS, J. M. PATTERSON and C. H. BEST . . . . .	494
Vitamin A in the horse. By M. N. RUDRA . . . . .	500
The mineral constituents of bone. 3. The effect of prolonged parathormone injections on the composition of the bones of puppies with varying calcium intakes. By C. M. BURNS and N. HENDERSON . . . . .	501
The $\beta$ -amylase of barley. By R. H. HOPKINS, R. H. MURRAY and A. R. LOCKWOOD . . . . .	507
Observations on the relation between sulphhydryl groups and pyruvate oxidation in brain tissue. By R. A. PETERS and R. W. WAKELIN . . . . .	513
An analysis of the inhibition of pyruvate oxidation by arsenicals in relation to the enzyme theory of vesication. By R. A. PETERS, H. M. SINCLAIR and R. H. S. THOMPSON . . . . .	516
The effect of arsenical vesicants on the respiration of skin. By R. H. S. THOMPSON . . . . .	525
British anti-lewisite. 1. Arsenic derivatives of thiol proteins. By L. A. STOCKEN and R. H. S. THOMPSON	529
British anti-lewisite. 2. Dithiol compounds as antidotes for arsenic. By L. A. STOCKEN and R. H. S. THOMPSON . . . . .	535
British anti-lewisite. 3. Arsenic and thiol excretion in animals after treatment of lewisite burns. By L. A. STOCKEN and R. H. S. THOMPSON . . . . .	548
The effect of phytic acid on the absorption of calcium and phosphorus. 3. In children. By E. HOFF-JØRGENSEN, O. ANDERSEN and G. NIELSEN . . . . .	555
Effects of vitamin A deficiency in the rabbit. 1. On vitamin C metabolism. 2. On power to use preformed vitamin A. By A. PIRIE and C. WOOD. (With two figures) . . . . .	557

	PAGE
The influence of adrenalectomy on muscle constituents. By E. J. CONWAY and D. HINGERTY. (With two figures) . . . . .	561
The nucleoprotein content of fibroblasts growing in vitro . 3. The use of defatted media. By J. N. DAVIDSON and C. WAYMOUTH. (With two figures) . . . . .	568
The availability of histidine derivatives for growth. By A. NEUBERGER and T. A. WEBSTER. (With three figures) . . . . .	576
The identification of amino-acids derived from cystine in chemically modified wool. By R. CONSDEN, A. H. GORDON and A. J. P. MARTIN. (With Plates 5 & 6 and one figure) . . . . .	580
The influence of hydrolysates of hyaluronate upon hyaluronidase production by micro-organisms. By H. J. ROGERS. (With two figures) . . . . .	583
On phytic acid, its importance in metabolism and its enzymic cleavage in bread supplemented with calcium. By H. MØLLGAARD (in collaboration with K. LORENZEN, I. G. HANSEN and P. E. CHRISTENSEN). (With four figures) . . . . .	589
Ox spleen $\beta$ -glucuronidase; its purification and a study of some factors involved in assaying its activity. By A. F. GRAHAM. (With two figures) . . . . .	603
The effect of feeding cholesterol without fat on the plasma-lipids of the rabbit. The role of cholesterol in fat metabolism. By G. POPJÁK. (With nine figures) . . . . .	608
The mechanism of selective fermentation of d -fructose from invert sugar by Sauternes yeast. By A. GOTTSCHALK. (With two figures) . . . . .	621

The effect of mepacrine on the growth and tryptophanase activity of E. coli . By J. DAWSON . . . . .	xli
The role of folic acid in the growth of Strep. lactis R. By D. A. HALL . . . . .	xlii
A new method for the identification of fructose in the presence of certain other sugars. By D. J. BELL . . . . .	xlii
The identification of fructose as a constituent of the foetal blood of the sheep. By J. S. D. BACON and D. J. BELL . . . . .	xlii
The effect of diazoaminobenzene on vitamin A reserves in the rat. By A. H. M. KIRBY . . . . .	xliii
'Gramicidin S': the sequence of the amino-acid residues. By R. CONSDEN, A. H. GORDON, A. J. P. MARTIN and R. L. M. SYNGE . . . . .	xliii
Partition chromatography on paper as applied to the investigation of amino-acids and peptides in normal and pathological urines. By C. E. DENT . . . . .	xliv
The mode of formation of indole from tryptophan. By E. A. DAWES, J. DAWSON and F. C. HAPPOLD . . . . .	xlv
The synthesis of nucleoprotein by fibroblasts in vitro . By J. N. DAVIDSON and C. WAYMOUTH . . . . .	xlv
The action of mustard gas on proteins (studied with the aid of radioactive S). By T. E. BANKS, J. C. BOURSNELL, G. E. FRANCIS, F. L. HOPWOOD and A. WORMALL . . . . .	xlvi
The immunological properties of proteins treated with mustard gas and some related compounds. By J. C. BOURSNELL, G. E. FRANCIS and A. WORMALL . . . . .	xlvi
The fate of injected mustard gas (containing radioactive S) in the animal body. By J. C. BOURSNELL, J. A. COHEN, M. DIXON, G. E. FRANCIS, G. D. GREVILLE, D. M. NEEDHAM and A. WORMALL . . . . .	xlvii
The fate of mustard gas-sulphone and mustard gas-sulphoxide (containing radioactive S) in the animal body. By J. C. BOURSNELL, G. E. FRANCIS and A. WORMALL . . . . .	xlviii
Some aspects of the metabolism of arginine in malignant tissue. By S. J. BACH and I. LASNITZKI . . . . .	xlviii
Arginase and creatinuria in malignant tissue. By S. J. BACH . . . . .	xlix
Synthetic media for penicillin production. By R. P. COOK and M. B. BROWN . . . . .	xlix
The relationship of folliculosis to vitamin A and ascorbic acid. By D. G. MCINTOSH, T. MOORE, D. M. KEAY and R. P. COOK . . . . .	l
Studies in histaminase. By R. KAPPELLER-ADLER . . . . .	li
Sugars in the foetal and maternal bloods of sheep. By S. W. COLE and M. W. S. HITCHCOCK . . . . .	li
The diagnostic significance of capillary strength measurements. By S. LAZARUS, H. N. MUNRO and G. H. BELL . . . . .	lii
Idiopathic hypoparathyroidism treated with calciferol and calcium. By J. C. EATON . . . . .	lii
Imbalance of vitamin B factors. Conditioned pyridoxine deficiency and its effect on thymus weight of weanling rats. By M. B. RICHARDS . . . . .	liii
The rapid approximate determination of the solubilities of solids in hot and cold solvents. By W. KLYNE and C. BELL . . . . .	liv
