Colloquium: Neurochemical Group Opening Meeting

- | | | |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Peptide receptors on astrocytes: evidence for regional heterogeneity | A. J. CHOLEWINSKI & G. P. WILKIN | 429 |
| Expression of receptors, linked to cyclic AMP formation by cultures of human fetal astrocytes | M. D. WOODS, R. I. FRESHNEY, G. PILKINGTON & P. F. T. VAUGHAN | 432 |
| The use of anti-peptide antisera to probe interactions between receptors and guanine nucleotide binding proteins | F. R. MCKENZIE, I. MULLANEY, C. G. UNSON, A. M. SPIEGEL & G. MILLIGAN | 434 |
| Receptor activation, G-protein and second-messenger cross-talk in human pituitary clonal cells | W. W. Y. LO | 437 |
| The regeneration of adult rat retinal ganglion cell axons in vitro | A. R. JOHNSON, N. A. GREGSON, C. B. WIGLEY & M. BERRY | 440 |
| Adenosine and ATP: presynaptic effects at the cholinergic nerve terminal | S. J. BROWN | 442 |
| An investigation into the development of calcium-dependent neurotransmitter release from isolated growth cones | J. TAYLOR & P. R. GORDON-WEEKS | 444 |
| Solubilization of a glutamate-binding protein from brain membranes | D. R. KUONEN & P. J. ROBERTS | 446 |
| Partial purification of the D ₂ dopamine receptor from bovine caudate nucleus | R. A. WILLIAMSON, S. WORRALL, P. L. CHAZOT & P. G. STRANGE | 450 |
| Characterization of calcium channel subunit | A. J. BURGESS & R. I. NORMAN | 452 |
| Molecular analysis of two general markers of neurons and the diffuse neuroendocrine system: neuron-specific enolase and PGP9.5 | I. N. M. DAY | 454 |
| Structure and expression of neural cell adhesion molecule complementary DNA clones in skeletal muscle | C. H. BARTON, G. DICKSON, H. J. GOWER & F. S. WALSH | 457 |
| Molecular heterogeneity and differential expression of multiple protein kinase C subspecies in central nervous tissue | M. S. SHEARMAN, K. ASE, N. SAITO, K. SEKIGUCHI, K. OGITA, U. KIKKAWA, C. TANAKA & Y. NISHIZUKA | 460 |
| Cloning of putative nicotinic acetylcholine receptor genes from the locust | J. MARSHALL, M. G. DARLISON, G. G. LUNT & E. A. BARNARD | 463 |
| Changes in tachykinin and actin gene expression in rat sensory neurons after cutting or crushing the sciatic nerve | U. NIELSCH & P. KEEN | 465 |
| Studies on the neurochemistry and neurophysiology of experimental vitamin E deficiency | M. A. GOSS-SAMPSON & D. P. R. MULLER | 466 |
| Elevated polyphosphoinositide responsiveness and increased ornithine decarboxylase activity in the cerebral cortex induced by cholinergic denervation | L. J. REED & J. DE BELLEROCHE | 467 |
| Characterization of a neural proteinase which may play a key role in demyelinating disease | A. CHANTRY & P. GLYNN | 469 |
| Are post-mortem biochemical studies of human brain worthwhile? | A. M. PALMER, S. L. LOWE, P. T. FRANCIS & D. M. BOWEN | 472 |

Further characterization of the binding site for [³⁵ S]t-butyl-bicyclophosphorothionate in locust ganglia membranes	M. C. S. BROWN, G. G. LUNT & A. STAPLETON	475
Colloquium: Regulation of Blood Flow
Metabolic vasodilatation: the role of adenosine	A. C. NEWBY	479
Purine nucleotides as regulators of vessel tone	J. D. PEARSON	480
Leukotrienes in the cardiovascular system	P. J. PIPER, A. W. B. STANTON, H. B. YAACOB & J. ANTONIW	482
Characterization and biological significance of endothelium-derived relaxing factor	S. MONCADA, E. A. HIGGS & R. M. J. PALMER	484
Endothelium-derived relaxing factor, calcium and inositol phosphates	M. J. LEWIS, P. COLLINS & D. LANG	486
Roles of myo -inositol 1,4,5-trisphosphate and myo -diacylglycerol in vascular smooth muscles as second messengers: in relation to actions of acetylcholine	T. ITOH, M. HIRATA, K. KITAMURA & H. KURIYAMA	488
Role of cyclic GMP in the mechanism of action of nitrovasodilators, endothelium-dependent agents and atrial natriuretic peptide	F. MURAD	490
Calcium channels in smooth muscle cells	T. B. BOLTON, I. MACKENZIE, P. I. AARONSON & S. P. LIM	492
Measurements of intracellular calcium concentration in mammalian vascular smooth muscle cells during agonist-induced contractions	K. G. MORGAN, F. V. BROZOVICH & M. J. JIANG	493
Ca ²⁺ regulation of the thin filaments: biochemical mechanism and physiological role	S. MARSTON, K. PRITCHARD, C. REDWOOD & M. TAGGART	494
Mechanism of cyclic-GMP-dependent relaxation in vascular smooth muscle	T. M. LINCOLN, T. L. CORNWELL, S. S. RASHATWAR & R. M. JOHNSON	497
Myosin light chain and heavy chain phosphorylation in smooth muscle: potential regulatory roles for calcium, phospholipids and cyclic nucleotides	D. R. HATHAWAY, L. P. ADAM, R. C. TURNER & J. A. LASH	499
How phosphorylation controls the self-assembly of vertebrate smooth and non-muscle myosins	R. A. CROSS, S. CITI & J. KENDRICK-JONES	501
A comparison of the regulation of vascular and cardiac muscle	P. J. ENGLAND	503
Colloquium: Biochemistry: Present and Future Trends in the Undergraduate Science Curriculum
The origins and development of biochemistry in the U.K.	T. W. GOODWIN	507
The place of biochemistry in courses in physical sciences	G. E. P. ELLIOTT	508
Biochemistry in the biological sciences undergraduate curriculum	E. J. WOOD	509
Core biochemistry required for the biological sciences undergraduate	P. A. GABBOTT	511
The changing scene in the advanced biochemistry undergraduate curriculum	H. BAUM	513
Biochemistry required for the physical science undergraduate	A. N. MASON	515
The impingement of biochemistry on chemical engineering	G. STREET	516
Colloquium: The Role of Ion Fluxes in the Biochemistry of Excitable Cells
Calcium homeostasis in excitable cells	E. CARAFOLI	519
Intracellular calcium receptor mechanisms in muscle and nerve	R. J. A. GRAND	520
The regulation of mitochondrial function in mammalian cells by Ca ²⁺ ions	J. G. MCCORMACK & R. M. DENTON	523
Alcohol-induced alterations in calcium handling	J. M. LITTLETON	527
The role of sodium-calcium exchange in excitable cells	G. J. KACZOROWSKI, R. S. SLAUGHTER, M. L. GARCIA & V. F. KING	529
The biochemical regulation of potassium channels	S. DUTY & A. H. WESTON	532
Functions of gap junction channels in the open and closed states	A. TRAUTMANN	534
