THE FIRST THUDICHUM LECTURE

Biochemical specificity in neuronal function. By H. Blaschko	27
---	----

553RD MEETING, LONDON

Colloquium: Biochemical Aspects of Aging

Aging and longevity: biological and social aspects of the problem. By Z. A. Medvedev	39
The scope and aims of gerontology. By D. Bellamy	39
The aging of mammalian cells in culture (by title only). By R. Holliday	42
Age changes in the metabolism of essential fatty acids. By D. A. Hall & P. E. Burdett	42
Age-related changes during the biosynthesis and maturation of collagen fibres. By A. J. Bailey	46

Colloquium: The Biochemistry of 1,6- α -Glucosidic Linkages

The mechanism of branching enzyme action and its influence on the structure of amylopectin. By D. Borovsky, E. E. Smith & W. J. Whelan	48
Debranching enzymes in plant tissues. By D. J. Manners	49
The metabolic role of debranching enzymes. By T. N. Palmer & G. Wöber	53
Dextrans and dextranases (by title only). By H. Weigel	57
The role of the 1,6- α -glucosidic bond in the synthesis of α -glucans. By J. Carter, M. M. McCabe & E. E. Smith	57

Colloquium: The Generation of Chemically Reactive Metabolites

Epoxides as reactive intermediates in aromatic hydrocarbon metabolism. By P. Sims	59
Free-radical mechanisms in tissue injury (by title only). By T. F. Slater	62
Alkylating intermediates in nitrosamine metabolism. By P. N. Magee, J. W. Nicoll, A. E. Pegg & P. F. Swann	62
Inactivation and mutation induction in bacteria by microsomal metabolites. By R. C. Garner	65
Endoplasmic membrane as a source and a target for chemically reactive metabolic intermediates. By D. J. Williams & G. Parry	69

Communications
Tyrosinase activity in larvae of the fleshfly, Sarcophaga barbata . By L. Hughes & G. M. Price	72
Metabolism of β -[³ H]ecdysone during the larval-pupal stage of the blowfly Calliphora erythrocephala . By G. M. Price & G. B. Russell	75
The nature of inhibition and inactivation of bovine liver glutamate dehydrogenase by pyridoxal 5'-phosphate. By P. C. Engel & S.-S. Chen	78
Inactivation of nicotinamide-adenine dinucleotide-linked dehydrogenases by pyridoxal 5'-phosphate. By S.-S. Chen & P. C. Engel	80
Separation of two phosphorylase kinase phosphatase activities in rabbit skeletal muscle. By J. F. Antoniw & P. Cohen	83
Glycogen synthetase kinase 2 and adenosine 3':5'-cyclic monophosphate-independent protein kinase activities in rabbit skeletal muscle. By H. G. Nimmo & P. Cohen	85
Debranching enzyme in Escherichia coli (by title only). By R. Jeanningros, N. Creuzet & J. Cattaneo	86
The formation of α -1,4: α -1,6-linked oligosaccharides derived from pullulan. By B. S. Enevoldsen & F. Schmidt	87
Activation of human milk lipase. By B. Hall	90
Investigation of the effect of L-3,4-dihydroxyphenylalanine on brain protein synthesis. By A. H. Bone	91
The effect of experimental hyperphenylalaninaemia on polyribosomes of the developing rat brain. By D. Johnson, J. O. White, L. Lim & A. N. Davison	93
Properties of rat brain microsomal ribonucleic acid containing polyadenylate. By J. O. White, C. Hall, L. Lim & A. N. Davison	94
Nucleo-cytoplasmic relationships of ribonucleic acid containing polyadenylate in the adult rat brain. By W. Berthold, L. Lim & A. N. Davison	96
Separation of neuronal and neuropil-enriched fractions from developing rat cerebral cortex. By A. K. Sinha, S. P. R. Rose & L. Sinha	97
The release of endogenous 3,4-dihydroxyphenethylamine from synaptosomes isolated from corpus striatum. By J. S. de Belleruche & H. F. Bradford	99
The role of potassium ion loss in the anoxic impairment of respiration of cat cerebral-cortex slices. By N. J. Patel & L. M. Fixter	101
A radioenzymic assay for acetylcholine and the problems encountered during its development and application. By S. Wonnacott & R. M. Marchbanks	102
Chromatography on Sephadex LH-20 of a cholinergic receptor protein present in proteolipid extracts from housefly heads. By J. F. Donnellan & K. J. Cattell	106
Proteins of the synaptic junction. By B. B. Walters & A. I. Matus	109
Amine-dependent synthesis of peptides and peptido-amines in nervous tissue. By Kl. Reichelt, P. D. Edminson & E. Kvamme	112
Investigations of the self-potentiating effect of luteinizing-hormone-releasing hormone on rat pituitaries in vitro . By J. A. Edwardson & D. Gilbert	112
Effects of adrenocorticotrophin-(4-10)-heptapeptide on changes in brain monoamine metabolism associated with retrograde amnesia in the rat. By B. E. Leonard, F. Ramaekers & H. Rigter	113
The effect of single and repeated administration of chlorpromazine on serum tryptophan and albumin binding of tryptophan in the rat. By D. A. Bender	115

	PAGE
Possible annular distribution of copper in the myelin of spinal cord nerves with special reference to the sheep. By D. S. P. Patterson & D. Sweasey	118
Arteriovenous differences of choline and choline lipids across the brain of rat and rabbit. By S. Spanner, R. C. Hall & G. B. Ansell	120
Effects of indole alkaloids and related compounds on the properties of brain micro-tubular protein. By L. P. Tan & J. R. Lagnado	121
Age-related changes in lipid peroxidation in rat liver mitochondria. By M. C. Barrett & A. A. Horton	124
The effect of age on mitochondrial ultrastructure and enzyme cytochemistry. By P. D. Wilson & L. M. Franks	126
Age-related changes in gluconeogenesis and the metabolism of alanine in the perfused liver of neonatal rats. By K. Snell & D. G. Walker	128
The role of the alanine cycle in neonatal rats. By K. Snell	129
Metabolic rhythms in old age. By K. G. M. M. Alberti, A. Dornhorst & A. S. Rowe	132
Changes in surface carbohydrate of human erythrocytes aged in vivo . By A. Baxter & J. G. Beeley	134
The association of collagen galactosyl- and glucosyl-transferases with subcellular fractions of embryonic chick tendon cells. By R. Harwood, M. E. Grant & D. S. Jackson	136
The incorporation of L-[1- ³ H]fucose into non-collagenous glycoproteins secreted by human fibroblasts in culture. By C. H. J. Sear, M. E. Grant, J. C. Anderson & D. S. Jackson	138
Proteins and hyaluronic acid associated with proteoglycans extracted from bovine nasal cartilage with low-ionic-strength salt solution. By P. J. Roughley & R. M. Mason	140
Procollagen biosynthesis in embryonic chick arteries. By J. D. Schofield & R. Harwood	143
The isolation of collagen-associated molecules from bovine nasal cartilage. By V. Lee-Own & J. C. Anderson	145
Changes in guinea-pig dermal collagen during development. By C. A. Shuttleworth & L. Forrest	147
Partition coefficients of some anaesthetic-like molecules between water and smectic mesophases of dipalmitoyl phosphatidylcholine. By M. W. Hill	149
Comparison of molecular properties by dialysis rate. By M. Davies	153
Centrifugal and activation methods for rapid identification of lysosomotropic drugs with the use of rat liver homogenates. By P. J. Jacques, G. Huybrechts-Godin & C. Smeesters	155
Liposomes as carriers in vivo for methotrexate. By C. M. Colley & B. E. Ryman	157
The cellular distribution of liposomes in the liver of newborn rats. By Th. de Barsey, P. Devos & F. van Hoof	159
The inability of macrophages to digest liposomes containing a high proportion of cholesterol. By S. M. Johnson	160
The identification of actin associated with pig platelet membranes and granules. By D. G. Taylor, R. J. Mapp & N. Crawford	161
Preparation of a tubulin-rich protein fraction from pig platelets. By A. G. Castle & N. Crawford	164
The nature and function of alamethicin. By D. R. Martin & R. J. P. Williams	166

	PAGE
The effects of bongkreikic acid and atractyloside on adenine nucleotide translocation in plant mitochondria. By H. C. Passam	167
Valinomycin sensitivity of cytochrome c oxidase vesicles. By J. M. Wrigglesworth & P. Nicholls	168
Stimulation of electron transport and activation of reduced nicotinamide-adenine dinucleotide dehydrogenase in Jerusalem-artichoke mitochondria. By J. M. Palmer & R. Sotthibandhu	171
The metabolism of carcinogenic polycyclic hydrocarbons by tissues of the respiratory tract. By K. Pal, P. L. Grover & P. Sims	174
Anaerobic dechlorination of trichlorofluoromethane by liver microsomal preparations in vitro . By C. R. Wolf, L. J. King & D. V. Parke	175
The partial purification and some properties of a human erythrocyte 4-nitroacetophenone reductase. By G. M. Cohen & I. R. Flockhart	178
Further studies on the effects of inhibitors on the metabolism and toxicity of dimethylnitrosamine. By J. C. Phillips, C. E. Heading, B. G. Lake, S. D. Gangolli, P. Grasso & A. G. Lloyd	179
Comparative studies on hepatic dimethylnitrosamine demethylase and some xenobiotic-metabolizing enzymes in the rat. By B. G. Lake, M. J. Minski, J. C. Phillips, C. E. Heading, S. D. Gangolli & A. G. Lloyd	183
The bacterial degradation of nitrosamines. By I. R. Rowland & P. Grasso	185
The effect of some inducers of hepatic xenobiotic-metabolizing enzymes on the urinary excretion of D -glucuronic acid metabolites in the rat. By B. G. Lake, R. C. Longland, R. A. Hodgson, B. J. Severn, S. D. Gangolli & A. G. Lloyd	188
Hexachlorobenzene: member of a new class of hepatic microsomal enzyme inducers (by title only). By M. D. Stonard	191
Glucose utilization by the avian shell gland. By J. B. Moynihan & N. A. Edwards	191
A simple method for the study of tryptophan binding to serum albumin by small-scale equilibrium dialysis: application to animal and human studies. By D. A. Bender, A. P. Boulton & W. F. Coulson	193
Variations of certain lipids in the white matter of developing brain. By A. Kalofooutis, S. Paterakis, G. Jullien & A. Koutselinis	194
Use of gel filtration to monitor ribosome-membrane interaction. By A. L. Ibbetson & R. B. Freedman	197
