FEDERATION OF EUROPEAN BIOCHEMICAL SOCIETIES 14th MEETING

Edinburgh, Scotland, 29 March–3 April 1981

Message of Welcome

Greetings, and welcome to Edinburgh! The Biochemical Society is proud and happy to have you with us here on the occasion of the 14th Meeting of FEBS. The Society was founded in 1911 and so 14th FEBS is being held during the celebration of the Society's seventieth anniversary.

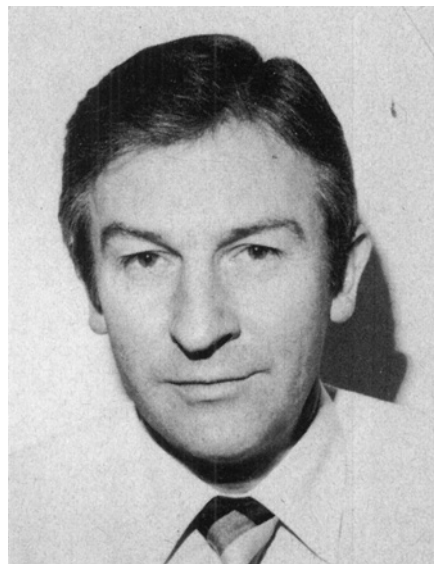

Together with other societies of the biochemical community in Europe, The Biochemical Society was instrumental in creating FEBS and indeed was host to the 1st Meeting of FEBS, held in London, England in 1964.

Edinburgh has been the capital city of Scotland since the fifteenth century. It has a population of about 450 000 and is the principal city of the Lothian Region of Scotland.

As you can see from the programme, 14th FEBS is being held in the George Square precinct of the University of Edinburgh, an area close to the heart of the city and one which encompasses also Departments of the Heriot–Watt University which, like its sister university, is providing valuable support to the Meeting. In 1975 at the meeting of the Council of FEBS in Paris, it was agreed that constituent societies of FEBS should explore the possibility of mounting Meetings of FEBS in a University environment and of arranging them at times other than the European summer vacation periods; this explains the timing and location of 14th FEBS.

The University of Edinburgh was founded in 1583 by the Town Council of Edinburgh and is the sixth-oldest University in the United Kingdom. Heriot–Watt University was incorporated by Royal Charter in 1966 but its origins date back to 1821 when it was founded as the School of Arts and Mechanics Institute. It is interesting to note that in the whole of Great Britain and Ireland in 1821 there were only eight Universities, five of which were in Scotland (St. Andrews, Glasgow, King's (Aberdeen), Edinburgh and Marischal (Aberdeen)). Now, in 1981 there are 47 Universities in the United Kingdom and Ireland, all of them engaging in the practice of Biochemistry in one form or another. Moreover, there is in the country a large number of research establishments sponsored by the Government, charitable foundations, industry and commerce, many of them heavily committed to Biochemistry.

My colleagues and I hope, therefore, that this rich biochemical environment will be an added attraction to your attendance at 14th FEBS and to your visit to our country. We know that you will like Edinburgh, and we are confident that the excellent programmes will provide a stimulating, interesting and productive biochemical exchange. There are 39 symposium units (we decided not to use the word 'colloquium' because the etymology of 'symposium' seems to be more appropriate to FEBS than that of 'colloquium'), poster sessions, commercial exhibitions, a plenary lecture, and the customary ceremonies and social programmes.

Have a happy week!

On behalf of The Biochemical Society,
HAMISH M. KEIR,
Chairman of the Organizing Committee

HOW TO USE THE BOOK OF ABSTRACTS

This book consists of three principal sections:

Section I contains the abstracts for the symposia S1 to S39. A list of the symposia and a note of their location and timing will be found on page vi. Symposium abstracts are numbered as in the example Mon-S1-4 which indicates that this abstract belongs to symposium S1 to be held on Monday. The final number (which can be from 1 to 7) identifies the order of speakers within the symposium.

Section II contains the abstracts of posters associated with the symposia. Details of the location and timing of the poster sessions will be found on page vii. Abstracts of posters associated with symposia are numbered as in the example Tue-S10-21, which indicates that this poster is associated with symposium S10 to be held on Tuesday. The final number (which will be 10 or greater) is a serial number within the poster session.

Section III contains the abstracts of posters which are not associated with the symposia. A list of the subject headings and details of the location and timing of these poster sessions will be found on page viii. Abstracts of these posters are numbered as in the example Thu-J-41B, which indicates that this poster belongs to subject heading J (Biological oxidations) and will be displayed on Thursday according to schedule B. The number 41 is the serial number of the poster board in the relevant location (in this example, Appleton Tower).

A number of posters arrived too late for proper classification, and will be found in the Miscellaneous section (312P-314P).

Please note that abstracts have been reproduced exactly as submitted.

UNILEVER RESEARCH

Biochemical Society Transactions contains scientific reports of Society Colloquia and Members' Communications presented at the Biochemical Society's Meetings held in various parts of the U.K. and Ireland and, occasionally, in conjunction with other Societies, abroad. Short Biochemical Reviews, Books Reviews, Special Lectures of the Society and other information of biochemical interest are also included. Research papers are not accepted for publication directly.

Manuscripts reporting contributions to a Society Meeting must conform to the style of the Biochemical Journal. For general guidance see Biochem. J. (1981) 193, 1-27. Data should be expressed in SI units [see Pure Appl. Chem. (1970) 21, 1-44; Quantities, Units and Symbols (1971) The Royal Society, London]. Typescripts are technically sub-edited, but are not edited for scientific content, which is entirely the responsibility of the authors.
